

The purpose of this Privacy Policy is to describe the management of Internet sites, owned and operated by Giuliano Giuliani, with reference to the processing of personal data of users / visitors who consult them and / or who are registered. Giuliano Giuliani treats all personal data of users / visitors of the services offered, in full compliance with the provisions of Italian national legislation on privacy and, in particular of Legislative Decree No. 196/2003.

1) To use the Services offered by Giuliano Giuliani, registration forms may be required, containing fields for the provision of mandatory and optional personal data. The provision of personal data indicated as mandatory is necessary to complete the registration procedure; therefore the failure or partial conferment of such data makes it impossible to subscribe to the Services and to use them. The provision of non-mandatory data is optional; therefore their failure or partial conferment does not prevent registration and use of the Services. The personal data requested by Giuliano Giuliani for registration to the Services may differ depending on the registration form used.

2) Giuliano Giuliani keeps the technical data related to the connections (log) to allow the security checks required by law and in order to improve the quality of the services offered and customize them according to the needs of users / visitors. Giuliano Giuliani provides, in accordance with the current legal provisions on the subject, the registration of log files. This data does not allow identification of the user if not following a series of processing and interconnection operations, and necessarily through data provided by other providers. Transactions that may be carried out exclusively upon request by the competent judicial authorities, authorized for this purpose by express provisions of law aimed at preventing and / or repressing the crimes. On the websites of Giuliano Giuliani, temporary markers are used (cookies) that allow you to access the site faster. Cookies are informational data, active for the duration of the connection, which is transmitted by Giuliano Giuliani to the user's computer in order to allow rapid identification. The user can disable cookies by changing the browser settings, we warn that such deactivation may slow down or prevent access to all or part of the site. The sending by users / visitors of their personal data to access certain services, or to make requests in e-mail, involves the acquisition by Giuliano Giuliani of the address of the sender and / or other personal data, such data will be processed exclusively to respond to the request, or for the provision of the service, and will be disclosed to third parties only if it is necessary to comply with the requests of users / visitors themselves.

3) With the express consent, expressed explicitly and in a differentiated form with respect to the different purposes of processing, by selecting the "Yes" box in the registration forms for the Services, personal data may be processed for sending information via e-mail commercial, advertising and promotional material relating to Giuliano Giuliani's Services and / or third party services or products selected on the basis of the data provided in the relevant registration form. The consent for the processing purpose referred to in this point 3) is optional; therefore, following a possible refusal, the data will be processed only for the purposes indicated above. It will be possible even after the registration, automatically and without costs, to oppose the processing of data and not receive promotional and / or commercial communications, keeping the registration to the Services by clicking on the appropriate link at the bottom of the page in all communications advertising sent by Giuliano Giuliani.

4) Personal data collected and stored in the databases of Giuliano Giuliani are processed by employees and / or collaborators of the data controller in the capacity of persons in charge. They are not subject to disclosure or communication to third parties, except in the cases provided for by the disclosure and / or by the Law and, in any case, with the methods permitted by this.

5) The processing is carried out through automated tools for the time strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which the data were collected and, in any case, in compliance with the current regulations in force. Specific security measures are observed to prevent data loss, illicit or incorrect use and unauthorized access. Giuliano Giuliani can not be held responsible for any unauthorized access or loss of personal information outside of his control.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text strings stored on your computer when you visit certain pages on the Internet, when you read certain emails or when you use certain services. They are simple lines of text used for different purposes: to perform automatic authentication, to store specific information concerning the users access the server, keep track of statistical behavior. The management of cookies is under the direct control of the user: you can prevent the registration of cookies, delete them or simply select the ones you want to keep. In most browsers, cookies are enabled, at the bottom you will find the information necessary to change the settings of cookies on your browser. We provide this information as an integral part of our initiative aimed at complying with recent legislation in this area, and to ensure our honesty and transparency regarding your privacy when you use our website.

Cookies on the Giuliano Giuliani sites

The sites of Giuliano Giuliani reserve the right to use cookies, with the consent of the user where the law or applicable regulations so establish, to facilitate navigation on this site and customize the information that will appear. The Giuliano Giuliani sites also reserve the right to use similar systems to collect information about users of the site, such as IP address, type of internet browser and operating system used and / or web pages visited by a user, for statistical purposes or safety. The Giuliano Giuliani sites will be able to collect this information to track the use of the site and improve certain aspects. In particular, we use cookies on Giuliano Giuliani for the following purposes:

Navigation cookies

These cookies are essential to allow you to move within the site and to use its features, such as access to restricted areas of the website. Without these cookies the requested services can not be provided, such as writing a comment. The strictly necessary cookies are used to store a unique identifier in order to manage and identify the user as unique as other users who are visiting the site at that time, so as to provide the user with a consistent and precise service.

Some examples of use of these cookies include:

- The memory of previous actions (for example, text entered) while navigating back to a page in the same session;
- Management and transfer of security tokens to different services within a website to identify the status of the visitor (for example, registered or unregistered);
- Maintenance of tokens for the implementation of restricted areas of the website;
- Routing of customers to specific versions / applications of a service, as may be necessary during a technical migration.

Functional cookies

These cookies can be from a Giuliano Giuliani or partner site, have session duration or persistent. These cookies are usually the result of a user action, but can also be implemented in the provision of a service that is not explicitly requested but offered to the user. They can also be used to avoid giving that user a service previously offered and rejected. Furthermore, these cookies allow sites to remember user choices (such as user name, language, country of origin, and so on). The information collected by these cookies is anonymous and can not track user behavior on other sites.

Some examples of use of these cookies include:

- Remember the settings that a user has applied to a website such as layout, font size, preferences, color and so on;
- Remembering a choice so that the completion of a questionnaire is no longer required;
- Determine if a service has already been offered, such as offering a tutorial for subsequent visits to the website;
- Provide information to allow the operation of an optional service such as the offer of a live chat session;
- Fulfillment of a user request such as presentation of a comment.

Statistical and performance cookies

These cookies may be from a Giuliano Giuliani site or from a partner, session or persistent one, their use is limited to the performance and improvement of the website. These cookies collect information on how a visitor uses the site, such as the pages visited. These cookies do not collect information that can identify you. All information collected by these cookies are aggregated anonymously and are used only to improve the functionality of the site.

Some examples of use of these cookies include:

- Web Analytics: the collected data are limited only to the use of the website by the operator, to manage the performance and structure of the site. These cookies can be third-party cookies, but the information will be used exclusively by those involved in the publication of the website visited;
- Error management: measuring errors that occur on the site, usually this function will support the improvement of services or the management of complaints and will generally be closely linked to web analytics;
- Test different site page structures: tests on variations of the structure, usually using A / B or multivariable tests, to ensure that in the current and subsequent sessions a coherent aspect for the user of the site is retained;
- Performance analysis: measurement of site performance with particular attention to the user's browsing experience.

Advertising and behavioral cookies

These cookies can be from a Giuliano Giuliani site or from a partner, a session or a persistent one. Their use makes ads more relevant. Cookies could be used to prevent a user from seeing the same advertisement twice or to display advertising content that is believed to be more in line with the content previously viewed by users or the place from which they are browsed (detected based on the user's connection IP).

Some examples of use of these cookies include:

- Analysis of previously viewed contents to show advertisements that are more in line with their interests;
- Analysis of the place of connection, through the detection of the IP address of connection, to offer advertising insertions located by language and / or place;
- Analysis of previous user interactions with advertisements in order to select the promotional content most appreciated by the user.
